

TO THE VOTERS

Of Lincoln County.

"Where the Money Has Gone."

And Where it is Going Rapidly Now.

Comparisons Which will be Odorous to Republicans.

The article recently addressed to you and to which Judge Davison has issued a lengthy response in the shape of a proclamation, was not, as he would have you believe, a personal card from me, but the production of the democratic campaign committee of which I am simply a member, which fact was shown on the face of the article, though it was signed by me as chairman of the committee, as is customary, and it met with my hearty approval. Mr. Davison's response fails to respond. The committee's card undertook to show that the average annual expenses for county purposes for the past five years has been $11,251 and in obtaining that average the ordinary expenses for 1894 were placed at $12,940.80.

The greater portion of the judge's article is devoted to proposition that the expenses of '94 were $14,413.07, and as to citation of expenses prior to that year he only says: "As to statements of Mr. Cooper prior to 1894 they are not worthy of consideration or denial, they are not official, not attested and do not state items, and if they did, expenses of each year will naturally vary." Here is a square dodge of the committee's proposition. The books from which these figures were taken are public records, subject to every citizen's inspection, and the judge's card shows that he has been inspecting them as far back as 1888, and he knows they are correct. He went back far enough to count up the bonded debt, but failed to explain for what it was created. As he is determined to confine himself to a comparison of the years '94 and '95 and construe the committee's address into a personal card, I will accept his challenge. After publishing a list of all the money paid out in '94, he admits that the bulk of it has no bearing on the question of "ordinary county expenses" by eliminating all other items from it and publishing a second table, placing the expenses at $14,413.07. The amount in the address of the committee was placed at $12,940.80, which was taken from the sheriff's books as certified to him. Some additional amounts are taken from treasurer's report and added by the judge, making the difference. No examination of treasurer's report was made by committee because the "ordinary expenses" had always been certified to sheriff for payment and treasurer's report for present year is not yet due and has not been filed. A critical examination of the items will show that figures of the committee were nearly correct after adding the items from treasurer's reports. Although Judge Davison's card required the publication of every cent paid out in 1894, yet the publication of Oct. 15, 1895, containing operations of new court only embraces fiscal court allowances, nothing being said about county judge's orders, interest on bonds, &c. For the purpose of comparison I reproduce Judge Davison's statement of 1894 expenses and the publication of 1895 expenses—all items of a similar nature in latter being also lumped. Expenses of 1894:

In the year 1894 quite a number of things accumulated, and the road claims, nearly doubled. Before paying them, however, the overseers of the three principal roads causing the increase were summoned before the court and explained that their roads had been almost ruined by neglect and other causes and for that reason they had been compelled to do almost 10 times the usual amount of work on them, but that they were repaired to such an extent that they would need but little work for several years. So far the prediction has proven true. In expense column of 1894 you observe the cost of magistrates for attending fiscal court is $246. There were 16 which makes the average $15.37. In '95 cost of magistrates is $102. There were only four then which makes the average $25.50. For a fair comparison they should be charged per head and the '94 column should receive credit by 12 times $15.37 difference in number of magistrates which is $188.44. The insurance on public buildings expired in 1894 and the policies were renewed for five years by means of which the county got two years free. No more insurance will be needed during present term. The premiums on the insurance were $366, but the year 1894 should not be charged with more than one-fifth of same and should be credited by 4-5 or $292.80. In the items of salaries for 1894 is included $600 to clerk of fiscal court. There was no law for this allowance prior to long term of Legislature by which the clerk was allowed an annual salary to be fixed by fiscal court. On account of the delay in getting copies of the laws, the clerk served two years before the existence of the law was known when the salary was fixed at $200 and he was also allowed the salary for the years already served. Of this amount $400 should therefore be charged to years prior to 1894 and it will relieve credit by that amount. One of the banks had $600 of merchandise claims allowed in 1893, but refused to pay its tax because it claimed a contract with the State which relieved it from county taxation. The claim was therefore held over and paid in '94, though allowed in '93. These items aggregate $1,481.24 and deducted from $14,413.07, the expenses of the year, leave the real expenses of that year $12,931.73; $8.97 less than given by the committee.

The year 1895, as above stated, gets the benefit of the five-year insurance and should in justice be charged with 1-5 thereof $73.20. In the salaries of '94 is included the salary of $300 to county treasurer. The salary of that officer for 1895 has not yet been paid and will likely be the same amount. There should also be added to 1895, $104.25 allowed to jailer for services from October '94 to June 8, 1895, when, present officer qualified. These items added to amount certified by clerk make expenses of 1895, $13,673.59 or $741.76 more than real expenses of 1894. Another thing that operated to benefit of 1895 without the court's cause was the jailer's claim. His fees are fixed by law and can not be controlled by the courts, and are dependent entirely on number of prisoners in jail. In 1894 this bill was $1,221, while in 1895 it was only $621.59 plus $104.25, aggregating $725.75, and so with election officers. There is a difference of $51.39 in favor of '95 without cause of the court.

THE DEFICIT.
It is interesting to compare the following copy from the records of the county court, which is given authentically by Judge Davison's signature, with his published statement. In the latter he estimates that there was a deficit of $5,471.52 left on his hands by the preceding administration. The copy given below is the preamble to order directing the bond sale entered 12th day of February, 1895, and in Order Book 1 page 63 and is thus: "It appearing that the present indebtedness against Lincoln county is $4,995.50, all of which was created during the year of 1894, the items of which are the appropriation to Pleasant Point and Kingsville Turnpike $2,750; over draft on county treasury $204; unpaid interest due Jan. 1, 1894, on bonds $90; due city of Stanford for water plugs under existing contract $100; deficit in claims allowed $158.96; unpaid warrant to county superintendent for salary $225; salaries of county judge and county superintendent due to July 1, 1895, ($850) balance due pauper idiots $100 (estimated); nine locks for jail $18, estimated current expenses $500."

From this order it will be seen that the new court in estimating the debt in which the bonds were to issue counts as a deficit of 1894, one half of the salaries of judge and superintendent for 1895 and also current expenses of 1895, when these salaries had not then been earned and no expenses incurred and when earned the total of $1,350 should be charged to '95 instead of '94. I can't see the judge's idea for publishing the 1894 financial statement showing appropriation 1894 to be $20,910.26, unless it was to mislead or frighten the unwary because he immediately strips the statement of all expenditures, except those for ordinary county purposes. No such statement was published in 1895, as shown by above quotation, nor does the judge explain in his card that to expenses of 1895 must be added $1,440; interest on bonds; sheriff's commission on county levy at least $863.83 (as in '94) and the amount of his orders for 12 instead of nine months and salary of county treasurer—in fact every item in the '94 statement, except turnpike appropriation, will be added to expense of '95. The deficit of which he has said so much in public, and intimated so much in private, and which when given its proper credit is not so much after all, and is merely the result of a miscalculation.

The appropriation of $2,750 was made to Kingsville turnpike in 1893 to be paid out of '94 and there was also the extraordinary and unexpected increase in road claims, not known when levy was made. The turnpike dividends and railroad tax fell far short of what was expected and for that reason the rate of taxation adopted, 18 cents on the $100 failed to pay out in full. Had the court adopted the rate of the present court, 23 cents on the $100, there would have been a surplus instead of a deficit. The rate of ad valorem taxation under present administration is higher than it has been in years and I don't think it has ever as high. I give it from 1887 to present time. From the years 1887 to 1891 inclusive, the rate was 20 cents on the $100 worth of property; in 1892 it was 22 1/2, '93, 24 1/2, '94, 18 1/2, and in 1895, 23 1/2. Prior to '93, the claims had been allowed one year to be paid out of levy of next, and in '93 the court determined to get on a cash basis and not have the county's creditors wait a year, and for that reason the levy was put at 24 1/2, which paid nearly all the claims for two years of '92 and '93—in other words was a double levy.

TURNPIKES.
I don't understand what Judge Davison intends to say about turnpikes and will therefore quote his language and let you judge for yourselves: "Look and consider well before you put back into power these people that run your county $27,500 in debt in seven years and say they built turnpikes and have turnpike stock. Yet they have turnpike stock of the roads lately built—not worth scarcely the paper on which they are written. They took the people's money to build these roads and charge them toll for using their own roads, and tax them to pay interest on these bonds." Is the judge in favor of building as well as traveling turnpikes free? Under present system how could turnpikes be kept in repair without tolls? And who would buy a bond that paid no interest, and how can interest be collected except by tax? If all turnpikes were abolished whose stock is below par, how many would be left? If the judge intends to intimate that there is anything wrong in connection with these turnpikes, I know nothing of it. In each case a bond was required that they should be built up to certain specifications, and in each case three members of the court reported that they were so built. If they have reported falsely I hope the judge will report them by name.

BONDS.
It is true that the county has a bonded debt of $29,000, which amount has been expended in turnpikes for the benefit of its citizens. In fact the sinning (?) on that score is greater than the judge has told for, since 1887 the county has appropriated the following sums to turnpikes: Kingsville & Pleasant Point 2 1/2 miles.....$2,750.00
Stanford & Goshen 5 1/2 miles.....7,025.00
Stanford & Otterbein 5 miles.....7,500.00
Highland & Waynesburg 9 1/2 ".....11,875.00
Turnersville & McCormack 4 1/2 miles.....4,500.00
Stanford & Logan's Creek.....2,000.00
Carpenters & Moreland Station.....2,000.00
Total.....$37,650.00

It will thus be seen that within the time named the court under democratic rule has spent on turnpikes $37,650 or $8,650 more than amount represented by the bonded debt, which extra amount has been paid out of the levy from year to year at low rates named in addition to paying ordinary county expenses, and the aggregate of those expenses since the above named date should receive credit by the sum of $8,650. The committee in its card overlooked this fact and therefore made the average too high.

The building of these turnpikes enabled the people of and in the vicinity of Goshen, Waynesburg, Kingsville, Otterbein, &c., to have the benefit of these luxuries in traveling as well as their more favored neighbors. Their property by taxation had helped to build the remaining about 150 miles of turnpike in the county, and it is but just that they should have similar benefits. The building of good turnpikes has been the policy of the county from the beginning and it has spent thousands of dollars in that way. The judge though seems to think that dirt roads are good enough for the people of the sections named.

IDIOTS.
There was another charge on the court prior to time the present members were installed and which was before that time repealed. In May 1890 the Legislature compelled counties to pay $20 per head for their pauper idiots. This law was in force three years, and under it Lincoln county paid from $1,200 to $1,500 the exact amount I have not now before me. For a fair comparison of expenditures the former administration should receive credit by this amount as this court will not have these payments to make.

THE NEGRO QUESTION.
No matter how slightly alluded to, seems to throw our republican friends into fits; but the people should remember that they have in this social question one of more vital importance to them than any one of economics. If the State goes republican, the enactment of the New York law—negro equality—will be demanded. The New South, their organ, is abusing Mr. Bradley because he won't admit that he is for it. If Mr. King should be in the Legislature with such a bill before it, isn't it reasonable to believe that he would support it as he has voted for a negro for a State officer? If such a bill should come before Mr. Bradley, as governor, for approval, could he consistently veto it when he has voted for a negro over a gallant Union soldier?

Mr. North's democracy need give Judge Davison no concern. It is perfectly satisfactory to his party. And he should remember that his man has also voted for a democrat as well as a negro.

The only objection urged against Mr. Burch is that his father, a life-long and active democrat, has been given a position in the revenue service. This will hardly disqualify him for the position of superintendent, a place he is so well qualified to fill.

Now, my fellow-democrats, every statement herein made is based upon recitals of the public records, and I trust that you will not be led astray by unfounded charges of corruption brought against your officials, county or State, when you remember that in many cases these charges are made by irresponsible persons and in nearly all cases by those who refuse to meet and divide time with democratic speakers because they know their false statements will be refuted. Don't be diverted from the issue by flings at me (for which I do not care) because I am trying to perform the duties of a position that was given to me unsolicited. The republican party is thoroughly organized and at work, night and day, determined at all hazards and by any means to defeat our nominees. If you all do your duty on the 5th of November, this calamity will not happen. GEO. B. COOPER.

MINSTRELS.—The very best minstrel company that has ever been in Nashville not only this season, but in years, is the justly famous Beach & Bowers' minstrels, which opened at the Grand Opera House last night. It is the very best because it is novel and striking in almost every particular, and unlike any minstrel show that has come this way. It is always up and beyond such hackneyed shows as the Wilson's and the Thatcher's, and the unnumbered train of imitators that annually troop and tramp this way. The programme presented last night was full of brightness, freshness and minstrel originality. There was fun from start to finish. Tonight Beach & Bowers will repeat their victory. Tomorrow's matinee and tomorrow night's entertainment close the engagement.—Nashville Banner.

W. P. WALTON.

The newspapers are resurrecting the old stories about Col. W. O. Bradley to the effect that he gave one Dunn, of Garrard, advice as attorney by which he was enabled to defraud his creditors out of $13,000, that the said Dunn refused to pay the $300 fee charged and that the Court of Appeals declined to force such a claim as inconsistent with public policy and sound morality, at the same time administering a scathing rebuke to Bradley. Second, that the colonel accepted a fee of $100 to lobby for Frankfort against the removal of the capital, a misdemeanor under the law, and third that he got from $600 to $1,000 for procuring a pardon for Mulholland, convicted of stealing funds while postmaster at Paducah, all of which Col. Bradley plausibly explains. Our experience in such matters is that while it is always best to tell the truth, it does no good to publish such charges, so far as keeping republicans and certain other voters just as unscrupulous from casting their ballots for their candidates. On one occasion we charged a candidate, who shall be nameless here forever more, with stealing a "little red hog" and presented documentary evidence to sustain the charge, at least to the extent of having the animal in his possession without right or authority, yet he received the full republican vote and those of still meaner men, whose sensitive souls were outraged at what they termed persecution. The meaner the man the better he suits the average republican, and all charges against Col. B. as a man, lawyer or gentleman go for naught, even though they be proved beyond the shadow of a doubt. The charges against Col. Bradley may cause a few so-called democrats, who have not lost all sense of honor, to look again before they leap into the republican arms outstretched to receive all traitors and renegades, but the republican candidate for governor will get the full vote of his party if charges could be made and sustained that he is an assassin, a rapist and a robber.

Gov. McCREARY made a stirring speech at Louisville a few nights ago under the auspices of the Whitney and Bandana Clubs, which was a masterly appeal for harmony and cordial support of the whole ticket. He regretted that Mr. Hardin had not construed the platform as it was intended to be, but that is of little consequence compared with the more vital question of whether we shall turn the State government over to a party which wrecked every State in the South in which it obtained the power. The governor was stronger than usual in his presentation of the currency issue and showed in eloquent terms the fallacies of the free silverites. He refuted by facts and figures the republican charge of profligacy and dishonesty at Frankfort and closed with a powerful appeal for a subordination of passion and personal preferences, confident that harmony and union mean an old time majority. Let us go forward in a glorious contest, in which, if we do our duty, our efforts will be crowned with a splendid victory. The speech appears in full in Friday's Courier-Journal and makes a splendid campaign document.

At the last gubernatorial election, 1891, Brown received 144,168 votes, Wood 116,087, the prohibition candidate 3,293 and the populist 25,631; Brown's plurality, 28,081, and his vote about as many as the entire opposition combined. Cleveland's majority over Harrison in 1892 was 40,020. True, counting by Congressional districts, which is not a fair test, the State went republican by a small majority in 1894, but it takes considerable confidence in democratic treachery and honesty to suppose that with the lines drawn as they are now that the republicans will be victorious. We can't believe it and won't believe that democrats can act so traitorously at a crisis like this. Bradley's only hope is in democratic support, a hope based on what should be felt as an insult by every honest man. Let us prove to him that he is reckoning without his host by showing our fealty to party and disregard of his specious pleas made to catch the ignorant an unwary. Put your cross under the rooster on the ballot and let it go.

SENATOR BLACKBURN told a newspaper reporter at Lexington that he had caught on to a scheme to defeat him by a fusion of gold bug and republican legislators pledged to vote for Hon. Cassius M. Clay, Jr., for Senator. This is a very weak invention for the purpose of creating sympathy. Blackburn feels that his goose is cooked and that McCreary has done it for him, and now he wants to monkey as a martyr for principle.

MR. SAMUEL G. BOYLE, not satisfied with owning the Stock Farm entire and half of the Lexington Press-Transcript, has bought out his partners in the latter and will on Jan. 1, assume complete control. The Boyles take as naturally to newspaper work as a fish does to water. Boyle Gill Boyle is managing editor of the Louisville Post and is daily demonstrating his capacity for so great an undertaking.

Gov. Brown will locate at Louisville when his term of office expires.

The Shelby News runs the name of Senator Blackburn at the head of its columns for candidate for president in 1896 and thereby does like a monkey when it climbs a tree.

—Bamberger, Bloom & Co., of Louisville, the largest dry goods firm in the South, made a deed of assignment Saturday. The liabilities are estimated at $1,200,000, with assets nominally the same. Fire, panics &c. are given as the cause of the failure.

—The Kentucky Bankers' Association at Owensboro by a unanimous vote has declared against unlimited coinage of silver and in favor of a single gold standard and the retirement of greenbacks. Capt. John H. Leathers, of Louisville, was elected president.

—George P. Senato, known as the "Old Mail Carrier of the Potomac," died at Parkersburg, W. Va. He was 106 years old, and six generations of his descendants attended the funeral, led by his youngest child, who is now 74 years old. Senato's wife died 51 years ago.

—At Constantinople 50 young Turks were arrested last Saturday for excesses in the recent Armenian riots. They were given a quick trial, and Wednesday night they were carried out on a warship and dropped overboard in the Bosphorus, where all were drowned.

—There was a panic in cotton at New York Friday and the most active market in the history of the Cotton Exchange. October cotton declined 60 points, having declined altogether 116 points since October 16. There was a fall of 42 points at New Orleans, and one firm of cotton brokers went to the wall.

—Dr. William Rose was killed by a sheriff near Phoenix, Ariz., while attempting to murder the family of Dr. Williams.

—Gov. Brown has fixed November 8 as the day on which Columbus Phelps, convicted of murder at Bowling Green, will be hanged.

OF A LOCAL NATURE.

—A Tribble's stable at Junction City burned Saturday causing a loss of $1,000 on the building, feed, &c.

—Jane Long and Nan Ball, two colored women, quarreled at Barbourville and the latter shot the former dead.

—Somerset has a circus on election day and the republicans think the democrats sent it there to make them forget to vote.

—News was received here Friday of the sudden death at Lexington of Mrs. Virginia M. Lackey. She was the widow of Samuel E. Lackey and daughter of Malcolm M. Miller, of Madison. Mrs. John J. McRoberts, of this place, is her sister-in-law.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—The Lincoln County Bible Society will meet at the Baptist church next Sunday night, Nov. 3rd.

—Rev. W. S. Smither held a meeting at East Fork Christian church. Lewis county, and had 44 additions at four services.

—The Western Recorder says that Rev. A. V. Sizemore has aided in meetings this year in which 225 were baptized, not including 45 baptized in Stanford.

—The revival meeting at Walnut Hill, conducted by Rev. Henry Faulconer, is succeeding beyond expectations. Up to Thursday night there had been 17 professions of faith, six of them on Thursday night.—Danville Advocate.

—Rev. Geo. O. Barnes may or may not have meant that he is never going to die, but nevertheless he said in one of his sermons at the court house that he expected to be translated like Elijah of old.

—Richmond Climax. Mr. Barnes says he never said it. Tipton is not a good witness.

—Dr. John G. Fee, founder of Berea College, has resigned as pastor of the church at Berea because the congregation would not come over to his recently changed views on baptism. He formerly maintained that any kind of baptism was valid. Now he avers that that is only baptism which is practiced by the Christian church. It is said that Bro. Fee resigned just in time to escape being fired.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

—HAY.—3,900 bales for sale. Josh Jones, Stanford.

—Carroll Reid's Lindolette won her race at Latonia Friday.

—W. W. Hall, an old and useful citizen of Somerset, aged 62, died last week.

—S. P. Kerr, the Winchester miller, has bought 30,000 bushels of wheat in Garrard at 61 and 62 cents.

—J. M. Hill sold to J. C. Johnson, of Boyle, a cow and calf for $25; a lot of sheep at 2c and a fat heifer at 3c.

—The Lexington Fair Association has gone into voluntary liquidation. It has been losing money for several years.

—The Municipal Handicap at Morris Park was won by Henry of Navarre, Rey El Santa Anita second and Clifford third.

—The total sugar crop of Louisiana is estimated at 710,000,000 pounds, an increase of 114,000,000 pounds over last year.

—Dentine, by Aberdeen, owned by Douglas Thomas, has started 13 times this year and has been first or second in all of his races but one. His record is 2:13½.

—FOR SALE.—A lot of Red Duroc Jersey hogs, pigs and shoats; also a fine red boar and a number of first-class milk cows. Apply at once. P. W. Green, Stanford.

—Mr. H. A. B. Marksbury, of Lancaster, is here receiving several car loads of wheat bought of Messrs. T. J. Foster, G. A. Lackey, J. H. McAlister and Perry Ballard at 62c.

—A rough estimate places the amount of fruit shipped from Southern California this season at 8,000 carloads. For the transportation of this the growers have paid the railroads about $1,600,000.

—Bear in mind that the sale of the late J. M. Reid Thursday. The splendid farm of 300 acres, 70 acres of knob land, live stock, bank stock, crop and farming implements will be sold.

—W. M. Lackey shipped 22 cattle to Cincinnati last week and got 3½c. By crowding them into one car he saved freight, but one died en route and five were so badly injured they were hardly saleable.

—The largest apple tree in the mountains is on the farm of Jason L. Webb, near Sergeant, which measures 18 feet around at the ground and is 110 feet high. More than 40 bushels of apples were gathered from the tree this fall.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—Miss Katharine Burdette will entertain the members of the walking club at her pretty country home on the Lexington pike Thursday evening.

—There is an epidemic of a disease very much like diphtheria raging at Preachersville. The public school has been closed upon account of it.

—Farmers are busy sowing wheat, barley, &c., although the ground is very dry. Some parties who sowed very early say they have been compelled to sow over—the grain sprouted then perished.

—Died in this county Thursday, a nine year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lucien L. Perkins. Her death resulted from congestion of the brain, she having been ill only a few days. The burial occurred Friday at Goshen.

—The following ladies enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Jacob Robinson at a most sumptuous dining Thursday: Mrs. Dave Dunn, Mrs. Alice Adams, of Danville, Mrs. E. L. Owsley, Mrs. H. C. Jennings and Mrs. Thomas Robinson.

—The mite society of the Presbyterian church will meet this afternoon with Mrs. William Herndon on Danville street. The ladies of this society deserve much credit for the excellent work they have accomplished for their church.

—There will be a supper by the ladies of Pleasant Grove church Thursday evening. Twenty five cents will be charged for a good supper and as the proceeds are to go for the benefit of the repairs upon their church they hope to be well patronized.

—The sale for hogs is reported very dull at about 3c for the best shippers. Cattle at 2 to 3c. B. F. Robinson and James McCarley shipped several car loads of hogs and cattle last week and they report a very dull and unsatisfactory market.

—Miss Ida May Grant was one of the 75 guests that were entertained at the artistic home of Mrs. Robert Harding, of Danville, on last Tuesday evening, it being the 16th anniversary of her marriage. Miss Letitia Stevenson, Mrs. P. Wat Hardin and Martin Hardin were some of the distinguished guests.

—Boils are becoming quite an epidemic in our community of late. The reason it is supposed that some have become so afflicted with this malady is because they have returned from a visit to Boyle county. It has been suggested that it would be a good idea to change the name of our county from Garrard to Boyle.

—The Christian Endeavor Society of the Presbyterian church that was organized last Sunday afternoon elected the following: Will Noel, president; Miss Annie Royston, vice-president; Miss Florence Harris, secretary; Miss Lucile Weisiger, treasurer. A number of committees have been arranged in connection with the society, which will meet every Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

—Mr. H. B. Northcott, of Newport, who has been engaged in the turkey business here for several seasons, is with us now and has rented Dr. Kinnaird's house on Depot street for the business, and he expects to conduct it on a larger scale than ever. Mr. Butler Fox, of Winchester, has rented Mr. Will Romans' house on the same street and will also be in the same business. The price offered for turkeys is 4½ cents on foot.

—The Misses Lair, of Jessamine, are the guests of Mrs. Elmore. Capt. T. A. Ekin has returned from a visit to relatives in Atlanta, Messrs. Graham and Will Price and Richard McDowell, of Danville, were the guests Monday of Charles W. Friable. Mr. Marksbury, of Frankfort, and a Centre College student, was the guest of his cousin, Frank Marksbury, Saturday. Mrs. John E. Stormes left Monday to visit her cousin, Miss Mary Welch, of Nicholasville. W. S. Ferguson has returned from a visit to his mother at Covington. Dr. Stephens and wife, of Cape May, N. J., were the guests Sunday of W. H. Kinnaird and wife. Mr. E. K. Higgins, now of St. Louis, was with old Lancaster friends last week. Miss Lee has returned to her home in New Mexico after a pleasant visit to her sister, Mrs. Homer Tinsley Ira Taylor, of Cincinnati, was in Lancaster last week.

How doth the little busy bee,
Improve each shining hour,
Gathering honey all the day,
From every opening flower.

Did you learn this in your little school book long ago? Business was very dull all summer, however, we have been busy keeping stock, improving each shining hour, getting ready for busy times.

Terms Cash; Prices Low. There is where the "honey" part of the poem comes in. We will not quote you Furniture, Capets, Wall Paper in cold type. It would not look well, but we are all right and do not want too much "honey" from one flower. We will give you as much for your money as one possibly can. You will get rock bottom figures. We are right in the procession with our distant but friendly competitors and will give you the benefit of prices that are worth the consideration of people from a distance. Depend upon us, or write us. We have plenty of time to write letters.

PERSONAL POINTS.

Mr. C. E. Tate was in Louisville last week.

Mr. P. H. Idol, of Lexington, is here seeing after his business.

Mrs. N. B. Price and Mr. Ed Price, of Garrard, spent Friday with Dr. Price.

Mrs. S. W. Givens has been on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. W. P. Grimes.

Rev. R. B. Mahoney means business. Read his notice in this paper and call on him.

M. G. Reynolds, the red hot democratic deputy sheriff, says things are O. K. at Waynesburg.

Mrs. R. A. Hopper, who has been on a visit to Mrs. Ed. Carter, returned to Louisville yesterday.

Dr. Benaugh was resting easier yesterday and his physicians now have some hope of his recovery.

Mrs. Sue Holmes has been on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. G. L. James, who is fast improving at the Infirmary.

Mrs. G. C. Givens and Lucy Miller have returned from a lengthy visit to the family of Dr. Noah Moore in Bourbon.

R. Lee Davis, local editor of the Richmond Register, has a beautiful tribute to his head chief in the last issue of that paper.

Mrs. Alice Newland and Miss Mollie Brooks, of Crab Orchard, were here shopping Friday and honored our office with a call.

Misses Lena Barnett and Nannie Bailey, two handsome young ladies from the West End, were in to see us yesterday, accompanied by Mr. J. Wes Bailey.

Those clever gentlemen, C. L. Kellogg and T. E. Bowers, who go before the Beach & Bowers Minstrels, were here preparing for the coming of their great show next Friday.

Mrs. Dr. William Shelton and Misses Mary Cowen and Emma Martin chaperoned about 30 little girls and boys to the knobs after chestnuts Saturday. Mr. M. S. Baughman was one of the crowd of little boys.

Our old friend, Dr. William Shelton, has taken charge of the Stanford Female College, Stanford, Ky. Pastor Sizemore reports that Dr. Shelton and the college are doing finely. We are glad to have him in Kentucky.—Western Recorder.

Sheriff T. B. Robinson, who was over from Garrard Sunday, says the democracy is wide awake in his county and that Bradley is going to be awfully fooled when he hears how the vote stands there. Nothing but money and dead loads of it can get him the majority he claims.

Four Garrard county beauties attended the Si Perkins show here Friday night: Misses Bessie and Jennie Barnside, Maude Robinson and Ada Farrar. The gentlemen present from that county were Messrs. S. C. Denny, Woods Walker, John Lear, J. Mort Rothwell and Charlie Anderson.

Mr. Clarence E. Woods, late of the Richmond Register and editor of the Delta, the organ of the Sigma Nu Fraternity, of which he is grand recorder, was here Saturday en route home after a tour of the South, having gone to Atlanta with the press association. Mr. Woods is one of the brightest and cleverest of men and we appreciated the honor of having him with us.

CITY AND VICINITY.

Perfumery, colognes, bay rum, Florida water. Extracts for the handkerchief. Our stock comprises all of the popular odors. Craig & Hocker.

To avoid carrying stock over the winter, I am selling boxing, studding and joint at a lower price than they were ever offered in this market. A. C. Sine.

Mr. Joe Coffey writes from Livingston to correct the report that he will vote for Bradley, and says he will vote for the whole democratic ticket as he always has done.

We will no longer handle gentlemen's clothing and desire to sell our present stock entirely out. Call in and see our goods which are going at about cost. W. H. Shanks.

Some mighty good democrats voted in the wrong precincts last year. Don't let this happen again. Be certain you are in your right precinct and then be certain to put the mark under the rooster.

Bob Whitley, who used to live here but who now holds court at Mt. Vernon, was down last week. He claims to be the only negro democrat in Rockcastle and says that he was recently discharged by a republican hotel-keeper of Mt. Vernon because of his politics, but had no trouble in getting another job.

At Hustonville Saturday Mrs. Prissie Drye's house caught from a spark on the roof, but was discovered before it had gotten under much headway. The well was dry and there was only one bucket of water on the place. This was not sufficient and a barrel of cider that had been recently made was brought into use and the flames were extinguished before great damage was done. Verily necessity is the mother of invention.

The good news comes that ex Chief of Police Anderson, who assassinated Editor Joseph B. Rucker at Somerset, has been captured and is now in jail in Canada, with officers on their way with requisition papers to bring him back for trial. It will be remembered that the editor criticized him and that one night as he was on his way home he was shot in the darkness and killed. Anderson's hat was found near the body and his disappearance at the time left conclusive evidence that he did the cowardly deed. He deserves death in its worst form and he ought to suffer it without judge, jury or the benefit of clergy.

Ottensheimer.—News of the death of Mr. Jacob Ottensheimer, of New York, was received by Hon. W. H. Miller Friday and it occasioned a deep regret among all who knew the genial, big-hearted man who founded the Swiss and German colonies in this county and for several years lived here and directed them. He did a great deal for those people and added much to the material benefit of the county, the price of the lands in that section having nearly doubled since the foundation of the colonies. Mr. Ottensheimer was a man of fine address and succeeded in making friends of all with whom he came in contact. His wife and four children, all married, survive him to feel the loss of a loving husband and as fond a father as ever lived.

North Making Votes.—Good audiences greeted Messrs. R. C. Warren, M. F. North and J. S. Owsley, Jr., at Waynesburg and Kingsville Saturday afternoon and night and all the gentlemen acquitted themselves creditably. The democrats in that section of the county are well organized and are doing good work. Judge Davison is making a mighty hard pull in the mountains but its dollars to doughnuts that the democrats will carry two of the three precincts by good majorities. Mr. North's speech at Kingsville was a splendid effort and won votes for himself and his cause. He handled Judge Davison and his "card" without gloves and the "boss," who was present told by his countenance that he was sorry he was there. He attempted to correct Mr. North several times and put numerous questions to him, but our nominee was always ready for him and gave better than the high-muck-a-muck sent. As an organizer the judge can't be beat but he is entirely too easily rattled before an audience and makes a better impression when he remains silent. Mr. King was not present at either of the places but he is said to have been at Kingsville the day before and was feeling so good that he had to ask where he was at.

An article from Engineer E. W. Smith on the Danville water works and other interesting matter is unavoidably crowded out of this issue.

In 1891, Lincoln county gave Brown 1,262 votes, Wood 1,032, prohibition 154 and populist 24. Brown's plurality 230. We can and must do better this year.

The ladies of the church at Rowland will give a box supper Friday night, Nov. 1. Everybody is invited to come and bring a box. The proceeds will go toward repairing the church.

The Si Perkins show gave much satisfaction to a large audience. Mr. Burton is a fine actor and so are several of the other members of the troupe. The specialty business was good and the music very fine.

The members of the County Committee are requested to meet in Stanford at 2 P. M., Thursday. Important business is to be attended to and it is earnestly hoped that each member will be present. L. L. Dawson, Chairman.

Turkeys are only worth from 4 to 5 cents on foot now, but wait till next month if you want to sell them at a higher price. They will be in demand with democrats who will have more than usual to be thankful for on the 4th Thursday.

Hon. R. C. Warren's friends have made an appointment for him at McCormack's for next Friday night and as he never disappoints, we can safely promise that he will be on hand and loaded with good democratic campaign material.

There is one candidate of the opposition of whom ought but good can be said and that is Miss Kate Blain. She is bright, capable, deserving and worthy, but there are two objections to her. She is the regular nominee of the republican party and her election will be heralded as a victory for it. Besides the duties of the office of superintendent of schools can be better performed by a man, tho' we must confess that Miss Blain has done well—better perhaps than nine-tenths of other women could. She does not come to us, however, seeking the office on her merits alone, but as the candidate of a party which has nothing in common with democrats. Her election will be a vindication of Judge Davison's ways and methods and no democrat will want to endorse him after reading Mr. Cooper's card on our first page. Our party has put up a good man for the office of superintendent, Mr. W. S. Burch, and it is the duty of the democrats to support him and the full ticket. Mr. Burch is fully qualified for the position and being eminently deserving, the party expects you to do that duty. The lines are drawn. Be sure that you stay on your side in this and all the races.

Circuit Court.—At 9:30 yesterday morning, Judge M. C. Sautley convened his court and the following grand jurors were at once sworn in: J. E. Lynn, foreman, J. H. Raines, G. E. Alford, David Eubanks, J. L. Goode, G. A. Peyton, G. W. Edwards, John Pepples, Crit Riffe, T. J. Hill, R. G. Collier and Alex Holtzelaw. The judge himself delivered the charge and although it was over an hour in length, he succeeded in making the dry subjects interesting and instructive. Commencing by saying a grand juror dishonors his position if he knows friends or enemies while in the discharge of his duties, he laid great stress on the mode of procedure and the importance of keeping correct minutes and of being scrupulously particular in the statements of facts upon which to base an indictment. The general opinion as to technicalities is very erroneous. They are founded upon the highest and soundest principles that human wisdom can devise, he asserted, and then showed the absolute importance to life and liberty that they exercised. The whole range of indictable offenses were summarized and minute directions given as to how witnesses should be examined and what they could be forced to testify.

The following were those selected as petit jurors: W. M. Matheny, W. H. Curtis, John A. Frye, J. D. Bastin, David Moore, J. E. Pleasants, W. P. Grimes, B. F. Hayden, Wm. Burton, A. K. Denny, J. W. Reid, George W. Carter, W. A. Cash, G. A. Eubanks, George Holmes, Patterson Underwood, J. W. Bibb, E. T. Pence, J. S. Owsley, Sr., J. H. Hiatt, R. G. Ballard, W. R. Singleton, H. P. Young, J. B. Green.

W. M. Tinsley was the first man tried. The charge was assault, committed at a Sunday school and he was fined one cent and costs. Five cases against J. W. James and three against P. W. Green for violations of the liquor laws were dismissed on judgments by the court of appeals. A rule was issued against the sheriff of Casey returnable on the 3d Monday of court to show cause why he should not be fined for failure to serve process. John Belden's case for malicious cutting was continued by the Commonwealth.

Mr. Thomas M. Owsley presented his license to practice law, granted by the courts of Tennessee, and he was sworn in as practicing attorney.

In the afternoon Robert Paragon was fined $18 for trespass and Eph Paine was discharged for shooting at Charley Singleton. Alonzo Skidmore for selling liquor was fined $50 in default. The murder case of John Centres was continued. The jury in the Jim Tall case for shooting at Marshal Newland and wounding a negro was selected and the court adjourned.

In their new and handsome uniforms, Beach & Bowers Minstrels make a splendid parade to music that can't be beaten. Come in Friday and see and hear.

JOHN BOARD, who was several years ago sent up for life from Casey for killing a man, seems to be always getting into trouble, and getting out by the skin of his teeth. He was pardoned for the first offense, but soon broke into the jail again. Last week he barely escaped conviction in the U. S. court at Louisville for counterfeiting, for which he had been indicted on six counts.

COURTS.—Mrs. A. A. McKinney is passing under the rod of affliction, sore to be borne. Her other son, Louis Courts, died at Greensburg, Friday, of diphtheria, and the deeply bereaved mother is almost distracted. Louis was 13 and like his brother, was a favorite with all who knew him. May she upon whom the blow falls so severely find consolation in the promise that He doeth all things well and loveth whom He chastiseth.

DEMOCRATS of this county have a double duty to perform in the race for representative. Mr. M. F. North is the party's standard bearer and is in every way worthy of your support. The Jeffersonian requisite to office-holding applies to him in every particular and he is making a manly and courageous canvass, which forces even the admiration of his enemies and is in sharp contrast with the tactics of the opposition. Besides the duty you owe to him and the party, the further obligation is upon every true democrat to see that Lincoln county sends a man to Frankfort who will vote and work for the promotion of our excellent Congressman, Gov. McCreary, to the U. S. Senate. A vote for North is a vote for McCreary. Be sure that you cast it.

"WHERE YOUR MONEY HAS GONE."—We have no apology to offer for giving so much of our space to the card of Chairman G. B. Cooper. It is an honest and plain statement of the manner in which the fiscal affairs of the county were managed by the democrats, and the economy shown, while not neglecting anything that would advance the material interest of the county, is in sharp contrast to the way things are run now under the direction of the Boss and his henchmen. It makes mighty good reading and we commend its perusal to the voters of the county, who can then see what a mistake they made in turning over its monetary affairs to reckless and inexperienced men. Don't make such a mistake again and on a larger scale by electing Bradley and his ticket to take charge at Frankfort, but put your ballot in for the straight democratic ticket.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—James T. Dye, 19, and Miss Athey Long, 18, will be married at J. D. Long's tomorrow.

—Ambrose Miracle, aged 15 years, and Miss Dora Thompson, aged 13, eloped from Bell county, to Tennessee, and were married.

—Miss Edna Schmidt, the 18 year old daughter of a millionaire brewer of Chicago, ran away with and married her father's discharged coachman.

—If all the couples marry who have apparently paired off and gotten themselves talked about, unite their destinies within the times that the public has fixed for them, there will be but few left in Stanford to mourn over single-cuseness.

—Miss Helene Selliers, a pretty 17-years-old girl of Lexington, after preparing her trousseau and naming the day for her marriage to C. F. Miller, of Georgia, jilted him when he came to claim her last week, saying that she now loved another.
